2. To participate in advisory services of strategy, guidance, regulation and policy making for the industry’s development with stakeholders especially government bodies, to voice out our members’ views.
3. To organize seminars, forums, technical visits and training courses to allow our members to achieve higher competence and performance in serving the local construction industry, including a series of practice training course and CPD events in Construction Management Practices for members, Registered Construction Managers and Authorized Signatories.
4. To collaborate with Universities and Education Institutions to provide guidance and assistance to students of construction management and supervisory programmes and courses.
